New headquarters of the Group SAMSE, Grenoble

Platforms

With its unitary writing, its long south-east entrance facade in the axis of the avenue, its large urban window that shows the life of the company, the new headquarters of the SAMSE Group is visible and identifiable; it's a workspace and an image vector. It consists of three free platforms of 2,000 m² articulated by an atrium, its major space. This organization favors the connections between the services, exchanges are facilitated by its configuration in "amphitheater". Far from being a monumental and ostentatious space, the atrium is above all a place of welcome and conviviality, of life, of interactions. Central, it serves the majority of meeting rooms. It is prolonged by a green garden, place of relaxation and conviviality.
