The Colisée, Tremblay-en-France

Client
Etablissement Public Territorial Paris Terres d'Envol (l'EPT)

Program
The Colisée in Tremblay-en-France

Selection method
Design-build contract

Team
Groupe-6 architectes (Architecture) - Briand Construction (Structure) - Artélia (BET lots techniques)

Surface area
20,000 m²

Location
Tremblay-en-France

groupe-6 architectes

The Colisée, Tremblay-en-France

The ‘Colisée’ is a multifunctional arena-like facility (leisure-sports-culture) combining two halls in one single building. Its large multi-purpose auditorium, mainly focused on entertainment, has a seating capacity is of 7,000 to 7,500 spectators (in a handball sports’ configuration), 6,500 spectators (in a show configuration) and 8,000 spectators (in a seated/standing show configuration). Its multi-purpose sports hall has a handball seating capacity of 2,000 spectators. As the future gateway to the Grand Paris region, this cultural and sports arena is conceived to bring new life to the whole Paris Terres d’Envol’s region (Seine-Saint-Denis) while resetting the events’ offer. Its urban forecourt, used by Colisée spectators on event nights, is shared with the neighbouring business park.